

WHAT TO EXPECT

ARRIVAL

Bathrooms are down the hallway from the box office window. Welcome to the BLUEBARN Theatre. When you arrive, you will enter the lobby. Pre-show music at medium levels and medium lighting set the atmosphere. The box office is directly. You do not need physical tickets. You will need to check in at the box office.

You may request a sensory kit and/or audio enhancement devices at the box office.

Bathrooms are down the hallway from the box office window.

The theater will open one 45-minutes before the show. The lobby can get lively before the theater opens. If you need a less lively space, the hallway nearest the box office features dimmer lighting and lower sound levels.

You will enter the theater from a medium-lit hallway across the lobby from the box office. The theater is proscenium style. There are 96 seats. You may sit anywhere that's not taped off for our season members.

If you need a break during the show, a live feed of the show will be projected on a screen located above the box office.
